

GOLF TENNIS STEEPCLEASING WILL BE FEATURE AT LAUREL

WALTER JOHNSON SAVES GAME FOR SENATORS

(Continued From Fourth Page.)

jumpers of the year. Willie Allen, the leading cross-country rider of last season, is still with Colonel Parr. Allen is a big favorite with Marylanders, who, as a rule, support his mounts.

The steeplechase course at Laurel Park is now one of the finest in the country. Though it was safe last fall, it is more so now. Among the first improvements to be made by Manager M. J. Winn was to raise the hill at the head of the stretch remedy. This will enable the crowd to have an unobstructed view of races at all times. Not a single auto can see on the infield, where there were many trees when Laurel Park first became a mile course. Nothing will be left undone to promote steeplechasing on the same high plane as the sport on the flat is conducted. It will be recalled that last fall there was not a fall in five consecutive races, which vouches for the safety of the course.

AMUSEMENTS

Colonial—Greece Scott Company, in "Wildfire."
Empire—Lucille La Verne Company, in "Zaza."
Lyric—Popular vaudeville, matinee and night.
Huron—"The City Sports."

Richmond Boy With Field Mice.
 One of the features of A. G. Field's Musical show, which will be seen at the Academy of Music on Tuesday and Wednesday with Wednesday matinee, is a burlesque on modern stage presentation by Benny O'Ryan. But the feature of the feature to Richmond audiences is the fact that Benny O'Ryan is a boy of only twelve years of age, away with so many prizes on amateur nights at the Colonial a year or two ago that the management was compelled to prohibit his appearance as an amateur.

Benny has received a number of favorable notices for his work with A. G. Field, and seems to be on the high road to success as a big time musical.

"Peg o' My Heart" Comes Back.
 Every theatre-goer who missed "Peg o' My Heart" last season, and who regretted it, rejoices that this delicious comedy will be seen again at the Academy of Music this week, with practically the same cast that gave it so charming a performance last November. Peg and her little dog, Michael, will appear on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee.

Grace Scott in "Wildfire."
 The large clientele of the Grace Scott Company is waiting with impatience an opportunity to witness its favorite star in the role of the widow in "Wildfire," which was created by Lucille La Verne. It will be equally interesting to watch her in the role of the widow in the play, which will give her the first big chance of the season. The opening of "Wildfire" will be on Tuesday night, and it will doubtless be attended by a capacity audience.

Florence Roberts as "Zaza."
 Those who either have a first-hand knowledge of the fine work being done by the Lucille La Verne Company at the Empire Theatre this season, or who are familiar with the high reputation of Florence Roberts as an emotional actress, will be glad to see her in "Zaza," this week at the Lyric Theatre. Miss Roberts is more widely known to the public of the West than in this section of the country, and her quality is generally recognized by all connected with the theatrical profession everywhere in the United States.

Lyric's Bill Said to Be Strong.
 Featuring Frank Milton and the Deane Sisters, who are new to Richmond, in a comedy skit called "Twenty Minutes Lay-over at Alfalfa Junction," the Lyric bill for the first part of this week is said to be unusually strong in its acts as well as the Lyric's well-known variety always abounds in interest.

Union Promises Good Show.
 According to all accounts, "The City Sports," the Lyric burlesque offering of the week, will prove to be far and away the best production sent to that house since the inauguration of the new management. It is expected that the company includes not only pretty girls and lots of them, but several genuine comedians.

POLICE SEARCH FOR BOYS WHO STOLE AUTOMOBILE
 Dr. C. C. Coleman's Car Taken From Front of Theatre and Run Into Henkel's.

Neither the police of the city nor those of Henrico County were able last night to locate the boys who stole Dr. C. C. Coleman's automobile from the front of the Academy of Music Saturday night, when it was reported having been run into the Henkel's building on the River Road during the early part of the night. The search is being continued, and it is probable that they will be dealt with severely should they be apprehended.

Deputy Sheriff Webb Snyder, of Henrico County, made the first report of the theft to the Richmond police Saturday night, when he reported having found the automobile. Dr. Coleman, who was attending a performance at the Academy, did not know his machine had been stolen until he was informed by Detective Sergeant McDaniel. He at once identified the license number as that of his car, and upon investigation discovered that his machine was missing.

Sheriff Snyder, in reporting the matter to the police, said that he was attracted by the peculiar manner in which the machine was being driven by the boys, and that he called to them to stop. Instead of doing so, however, they jumped from the car and ran into the Henkel's building, where they hid in the darkness they escaped. They left the machine while it was running and without putting on the brakes, the car proceeded along the road until it struck into a tree, where it was damaged. The car changed its course after hitting the buggy, and plunged into a ditch on the side of the road, where it stopped.

Sheriff Snyder pursued the boys, of whom he secured a fairly good description, but they separated, and both escaped in the underbrush which lined the road. Dr. Coleman's machine was not damaged to any great extent, and was brought back to Richmond yesterday.

Union Station Robbed.
 (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., September 20.—At noon to day, while the force at the railroad station and Virginia Railway and Power Company station were at lunch, unknown persons forced the station door, breaking in, and taking from the drawer and locks on the safe, got away with about $150 in money. The tickets were not disturbed. No arrests have been made.

WALTER JOHNSON SAVES GAME FOR SENATORS

(Continued From Fourth Page.)

was called on account of darkness at the end of the fourth inning.

Cobb got a triple, two doubles and three singles. Scores:

FIRST GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

SECOND GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

THIRD GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

FOURTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

FIFTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

SIXTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

SEVENTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

EIGHTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

NINTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

TENTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

ELEVENTH GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twelfth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Fourteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Fifteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Sixteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Seventeenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Eighteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Nineteenth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twentieth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-first GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-second GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-third GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-fourth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-fifth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-sixth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-seventh GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-eighth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Twenty-ninth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirtieth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-first GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-second GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-third GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-fourth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-fifth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-sixth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-seventh GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-eighth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Thirty-ninth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Fortieth GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Forty-first GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Forty-second GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

Forty-third GAME.
 Boston, 10; Detroit, 0.

TREASURY AID WRITES OF HIS TRIP TO BERLIN

Disbursing Officer Wilmett, of Tennessee Expedition, Sends Letter Home.

Describes Work of Relief Capital—Reverence of People in Church Kaiser Attends Is Commented Upon.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—Details of his trip from The Hague to Berlin are recited in a letter to his wife, dated September 1, by James I. Wilmett, chief clerk of the Treasury Department, and disbursing officer of the great American relief fund carried abroad by his return to London and other tremendous volume of work entailed by the relief activities.

"We left The Hague, Holland, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, August 22, for Berlin," he writes, "and reached the city at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The train on which we traveled was provided by the Dutch and German governments. It made express time, notwithstanding the large movement of soldiers that is being made over the German lines. We were told it would take us thirty-six hours to make the trip, but it did not."

"It was never more surprising to me of Berlin at anything than I was at the city of Berlin. I think, almost without exception, it is the finest and most substantial city that I have ever visited. It is beautiful, indeed, has a distinct type of architecture that abounds everywhere."

"The city is full of the statuary, and one large park is as beautiful as anything I ever saw. The city is a capital building; also the royal palace, where Emperor William lives; also the palace of the crown prince. All are magnificent structures."

"I attended services Sunday afternoon in the great church where Emperor William worships! It is called the Dom. I assume the seating capacity is about 12,000. It has a magnificent organ. I was particularly impressed with the reverence of the German people and the manner in which they conducted themselves during the hours of worship."

"The house was crowded, even the aisles were full of people standing. Notwithstanding all this, it was so quiet that I could hear the slightest noise. I thought of our own services while I was in this great church, and could not help contrasting the church building, and its fine statuary and ornaments, with our modest, simple little chapel."

"I parted with the rest of our company at Berlin and came back to Holland with the national director of the Red Cross. We were about twenty-eight hours in coming back, and the same distance that we had done in nine hours on the train in going."

"I came out on a refugee train bringing 400 American citizens. It was a pleasing sight to see them on the train, after having been tied up so long. We found the States and Berlin who had been unable to get out. That will mean about a week's time to move the number there. But as other people are coming in, it will require these trains for some time to come."

"I stopped at a hotel in Berlin, which is patronized largely by Americans. I saw some people there whom I had met before. I had a very pleasant stay. I found the States and Berlin who had been unable to get out. That will mean about a week's time to move the number there. But as other people are coming in, it will require these trains for some time to come."

"Taxicab fare is so cheap in Berlin that one can afford to ride around the city without going to great expense, and we used this means. We were wine and dined quite extensively while in Berlin."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

"Since writing the above I have crossed the English channel and am again in London. I was pretty tired out when I reached here."

A condensed account of his work in London is given in a letter dated two days later, September 8. He writes:

"I find myself still very busy in connection with the nature of financial transactions that are pressing upon me daily. There is not a day passes that I am not transferring money from England to different parts of the Continent and answering all sorts of inquiries as to where funds can be had in great quantities in distress. It is an interesting game."

"Frequently I have but little time to write."

"I am so glad to get back to The Hague, where the great peace conference has been held. The relief work is getting along very well, and relief is being extended Americans very rapidly."

CONGRESS MAY GET AWAY BY MIDDLE OF OCTOBER

Leaders See No Reason Why Adjournment Cannot Be Taken By That Time.

UNLESS WAR CAUSES TANGLES

Prospects Brighter in Senate for Further Compromise on River and Harbor Bill—War Revenue Measure Comes Up This Week.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—After eighteen months of continuous session, Congress sees the way ahead for adjournment. Unless the European war should present new tangles, administration leaders to-night said they could see no reason why adjournment could not be taken by October 15.

The Senate to-morrow will resume consideration of the river and harbor bill, with prospects growing brighter for further compromise. Even some Democrats have grown half-hearted in their support of the measure in the present financial stringency, and President Wilson has held up a warning hand against any expenditures not absolutely necessary.

The House this week will take up the war revenue bill, which was completed yesterday by Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee. The measure as agreed on would tax beer, wines, gasoline, bankers, brokers, amusement proprietors, and levy a stamp tax on commercial instruments, with checks and drafts eliminated. Majority leader Underwood believes he can pilot the bill through within a week.

The bill will be introduced to-morrow. Its consideration was begun on Thursday. The measure would take effect immediately on passage, except that stamp tax provisions would not become operative until November 1.

Trust legislation is about concluded. The trade commission bill awaits the President's signature, who is delaying signing it until the Clayton anti-trust bill also reaches him. The conference report on that measure will be completed to-morrow. The disputed point of the measure to be determined by the Senate is whether it shall apply to corporations or to persons who would restore competitive conditions.

The House this week will pass the Norris bill to provide for a national system of public land leases.

ASKS UNIQUE PRIVILEGE
 Mrs. Matilda Zoll Wants Ashes to Reappear in Son's Grave at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—Matilda Zoll, of this city, has asked for the privilege of having her ashes placed in the grave of her son, the late Frank Zoll, of the One Hundred and Forty-third Company of Coast Artillery, who is buried at Arlington Cemetery. Mrs. Zoll does not care to be cremated and have her ashes placed quietly in a niche or urn in her son's grave.

As simple as this request may appear, coming from a loving mother, the officers who have charge of the cemetery have no authority under the law to grant it. The wives of soldiers are the only relatives entitled to be interred in national cemeteries.

The matter will be brought to the attention of the Secretary of War, and it is probable that he will issue a special order in behalf of Mrs. Zoll.

FIRE DESTROYS PEANUT PLANT IN SUFFOLK
 Loss Is $250,000. While 175 People Are Thrown Out of Work—Second Blaze in Year.

SUFFOLK, VA., September 20.—Fifty thousand dollars was the disastrous loss in Suffolk, tonight, when at 3 o'clock flames broke out in the mammoth factory of the John King Peanut Company, the great cleaner being a total loss. Only the most heroic work on the part of the firemen, who three times had to come down from the smoking roof of the adjoining four-story storage warehouse, saved the rest of the plant. The John King Peanut Company, which has been in operation for over thirty years, began operations there eleven months ago. During the past few months several thousands of dollars worth of new machinery have been installed, and on Saturday morning of last week 2000 tons were moved over to the factory from the warehouse. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is said to be covered with insurance. It means that 175 people are thrown out of employment and the loss of 175,000 worth of business for the coming year.

HEALTH INSURANCE
 Insure your home and family against disease—have your clothes washed the sanitary way in your own home with

Electric WASHER AND WRINGER
 In 90 minutes this machine will do the average family washing at a cost of only 3 cents for electricity.

It washes the clothes spotlessly clean without the wear and tear of the washboard.

Connect to any electric lamp socket. We will send it to your home for 15 days' free trial.

See Display Virginia Railway and Power Co.

7th and Franklin Streets

CONGRESS MAY GET AWAY BY MIDDLE OF OCTOBER

Leaders See No Reason Why Adjournment Cannot Be Taken By That Time.

UNLESS WAR CAUSES TANGLES

Prospects Brighter in Senate for Further Compromise on River and Harbor Bill—War Revenue Measure Comes Up This Week.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—After eighteen months of continuous session, Congress sees the way ahead for adjournment. Unless the European war should present new tangles, administration leaders to-night said they could see no reason why adjournment could not be taken by October 15.

The Senate to-morrow will resume consideration of the river and harbor bill, with prospects growing brighter for further compromise. Even some Democrats have grown half-hearted in their support of the measure in the present financial stringency, and President Wilson has held up a warning hand against any expenditures not absolutely necessary.

The House this week will take up the war revenue bill, which was completed yesterday by Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee. The measure as agreed on would tax beer, wines, gasoline, bankers, brokers, amusement proprietors, and levy a stamp tax on commercial instruments, with checks and drafts eliminated. Majority leader Underwood believes he can pilot the bill through within a week.

The bill will be introduced to-morrow. Its consideration was begun on Thursday. The measure would take effect immediately on passage, except that stamp tax provisions would not become operative until November 1.

Trust legislation is about concluded. The trade commission bill awaits the President's signature, who is delaying signing it until the Clayton anti-trust bill also reaches him. The conference report on that measure will be completed to-morrow. The disputed point of the measure to be determined by the Senate is whether it shall apply to corporations or to persons who would restore competitive conditions.

The House this week will pass the Norris bill to provide for a national system of public land leases.

ASKS UNIQUE PRIVILEGE
 Mrs. Matilda Zoll Wants Ashes to Reappear in Son's Grave at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—Matilda Zoll, of this city, has asked for the privilege of having her ashes placed in the grave of her son, the late Frank Zoll, of the One Hundred and Forty-third Company of Coast Artillery, who is buried at Arlington Cemetery. Mrs. Zoll does not care to be cremated and have her ashes placed quietly in a niche or urn in her son's grave.

As simple as this request may appear, coming from a loving mother, the officers who have charge of the cemetery have no authority under the law to grant it. The wives of soldiers are the only relatives entitled to be interred in national cemeteries.

The matter will be brought to the attention of the Secretary of War, and it is probable that he will issue a special order in behalf of Mrs. Zoll.

FIRE DESTROYS PEANUT PLANT IN SUFFOLK
 Loss Is $250,000. While 175 People Are Thrown Out of Work—Second Blaze in Year.

SUFFOLK, VA., September 20.—Fifty thousand dollars was the disastrous loss in Suffolk, tonight, when at 3 o'clock flames broke out in the mammoth factory of the John King Peanut Company, the great cleaner being a total loss. Only the most heroic work on the part of the firemen, who three times had to come down from the smoking roof of the adjoining four-story storage warehouse, saved the rest of the plant. The John King Peanut Company, which has been in operation for over thirty years, began operations there eleven months ago. During the past few months several thousands of dollars worth of new machinery have been installed, and on Saturday morning of last week 2000 tons were moved over to the factory from the warehouse. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is said to be covered with insurance. It means that 175 people are thrown out of employment and the loss of 175,000 worth of business for the coming year.

HEALTH INSURANCE
 Insure your home and family against disease—have your clothes washed the sanitary way in your own home with

Electric WASHER AND WRINGER
 In 90 minutes this machine will do the average family washing at a cost of only 3 cents for electricity.

It washes the clothes spotlessly clean without the wear and tear of the washboard.

Connect to any electric lamp socket. We will send it to your home for 15 days' free trial.

See Display Virginia Railway and Power Co.

7th and Franklin Streets

BABY FOUND ON DOORSTEP NAMED FOR THE PRESIDENT

Small Waif Now at Virginia Hospital Has Crib Next to That of "John Madison."

Patrolman Smith Awaits Identification of Person Charged With Forging Several Small Checks.

Defective Sergeant Fred Kregelg yesterday afternoon A. C. to bring back to this city. William Hennes, alias Louis